

FROM THE DESK OF

DANIEL K NORRIS

On Sunday, March 17, Jesse and Charity Wilson were voted in as the new lead pastors of Chokoloskee Church of God on Chokoloskee Island just south of Naples. Jesse shared this good news with us the following day on Monday.

Together they have served Grace World well for the past two and half years as our Children's Pastors. Jenna and I have truly enjoyed getting to know them. Our own children have been especially blessed by them. Jesse and Charity have been pivotal, transitional, Christ honoring leaders for Grace Kidz. No doubt they have left their mark on our church, our hearts and our lives as well. Grace World will continue to benefit from their time spent here for decades to come and only eternity will tell of the countless lives they have touched here and within our community. It has been an extreme honor to have them on the team and it is an honor to send them forward into a brand new adventure!

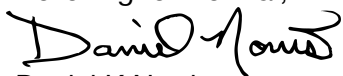

A few weeks ago, Nigel McNeil, was with us and prophesied, "Winds of change were coming to the house. There will be change within the leadership of Grace World and that this change is for the betterment of the individual as well as the house." I know God gave that word to prepare us, so that when the time came it would not shake us, but to trust that He was in the process.

We are all in different seasons of our life. Each one of us are transitioning from where we are to the next step God has ordained for our lives. Sometimes that next step is growth in the present place we are called, other times that next step moves us into new assignments and into new territories. The key to successful transition is keeping our eyes on Christ with our faith firmly anchored in Him. This will ensure that each step we take will always be for our good and His Glory!

I know the news saddens us, as we will have to say goodbye. However, the news excites us even more because Jesse and Charity, who will always be part of the Grace World family, are expanding the Kingdom's reach from here in central Florida to South Florida.

Jesse and Charity, we love you and honor you! I say, "surely the best is yet to come!" We pray God's richest blessings upon the both of you as you continue to say YES to Jesus!

Believing for Revival,

Daniel K Norris
